

1963 - 1967

Richard Ballant

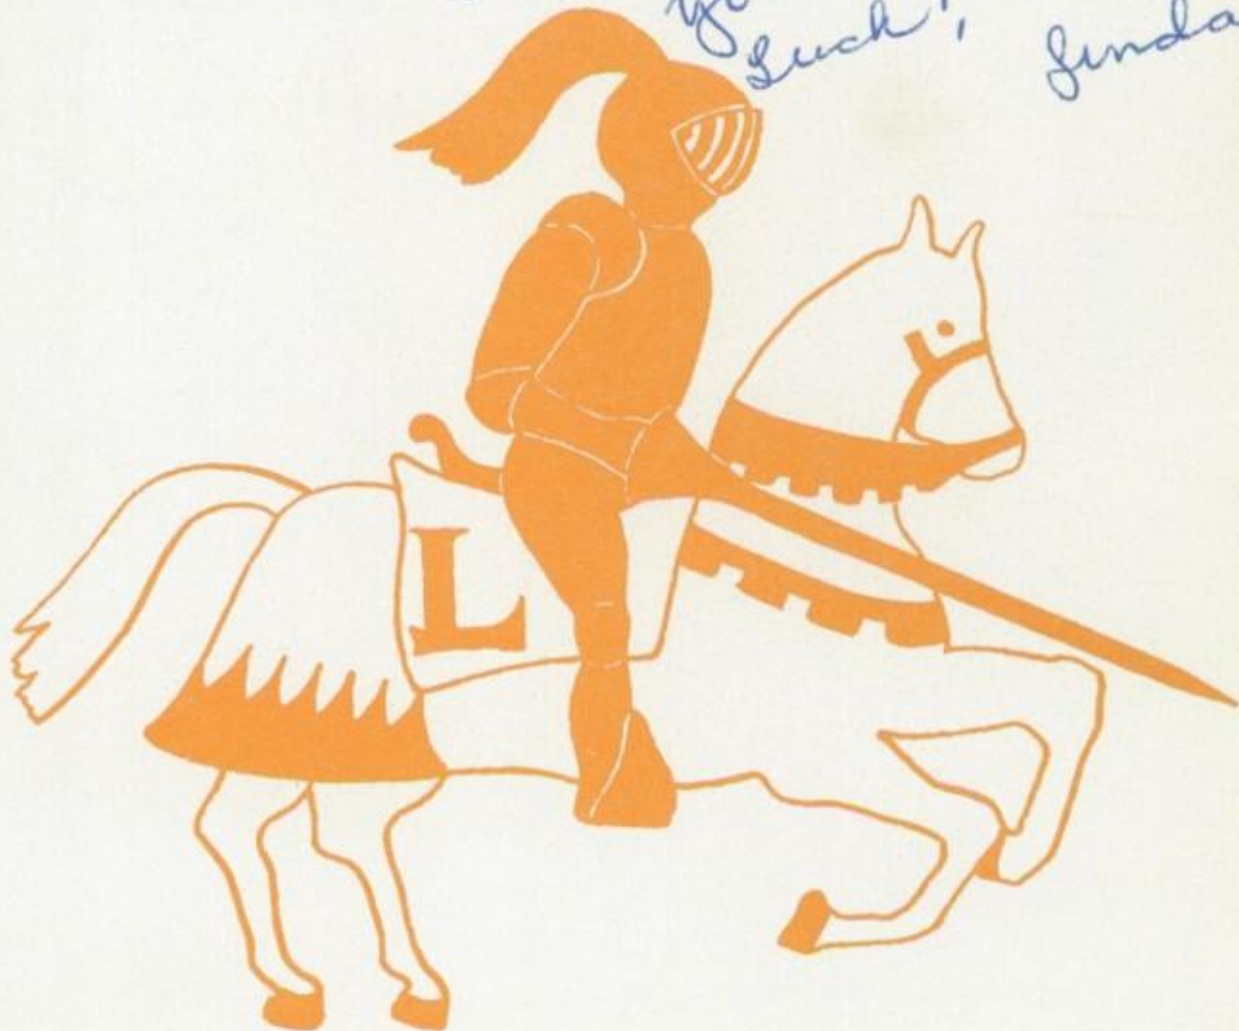

Richard,
I really have enjoyed having you in my Gov. class this year. I hope my Gov. notes helped you; they didn't help me too much. I hope to see you in the future. Best of luck in all you do. I'm sure you will go far.
Madelyn

Good Luck!
Pat.

Richard,
I really enjoyed math
this year even though it was a struggle. If I have any trouble with it next year I'll come over & bother
you about it. Good Luck!
Jinda K.

1 I feel that if you keep working hard that someday
you will become a very great scientist.
You surely have the knowledge and 9 desire.

With you luck
but I don't think you will need it.

6 It has been very nice knowing you.

Vaya con Dios

THE

Lane High School

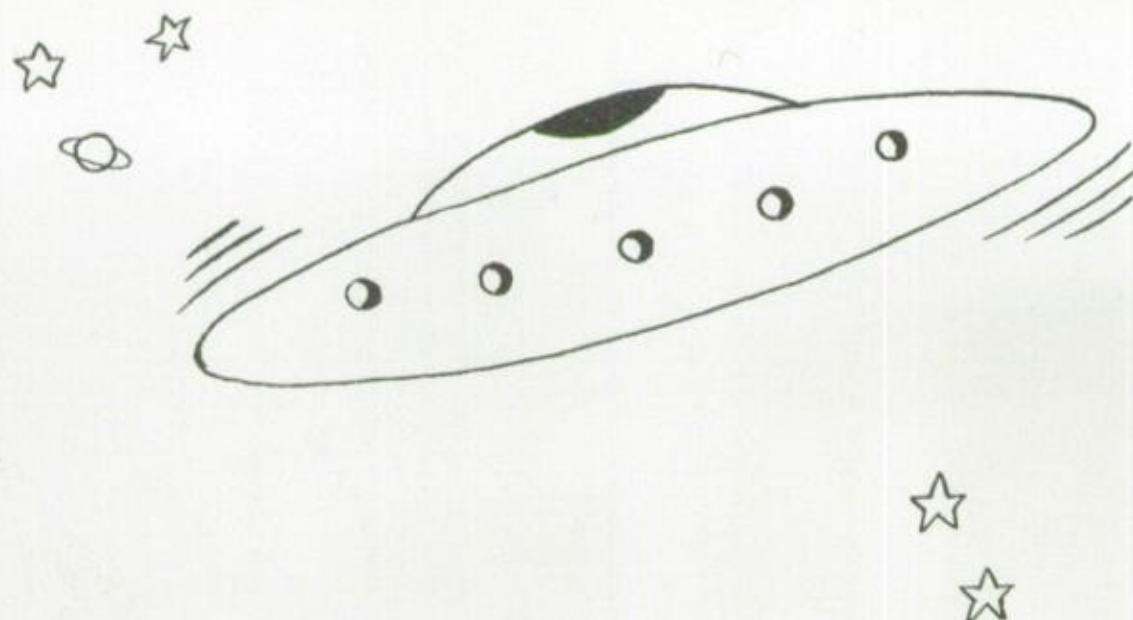

CHAIN

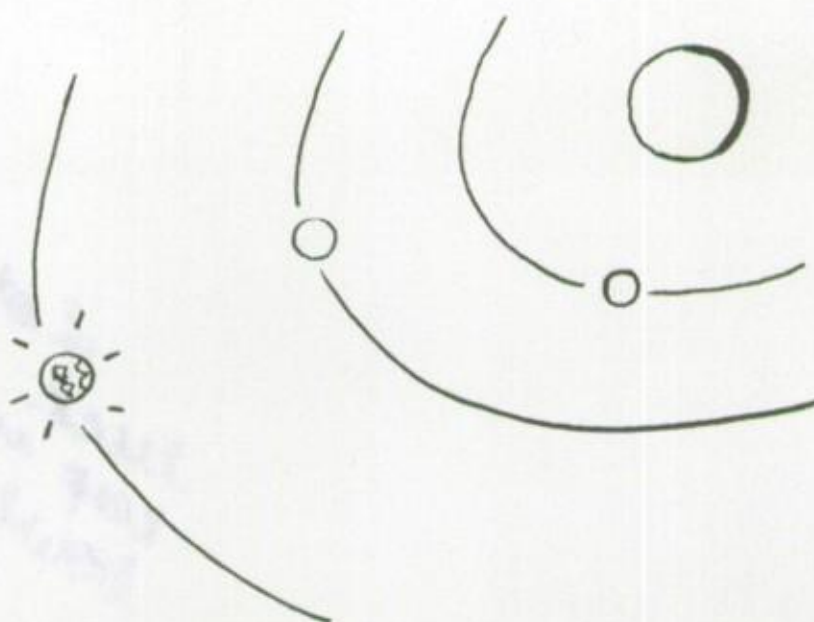

45th Link

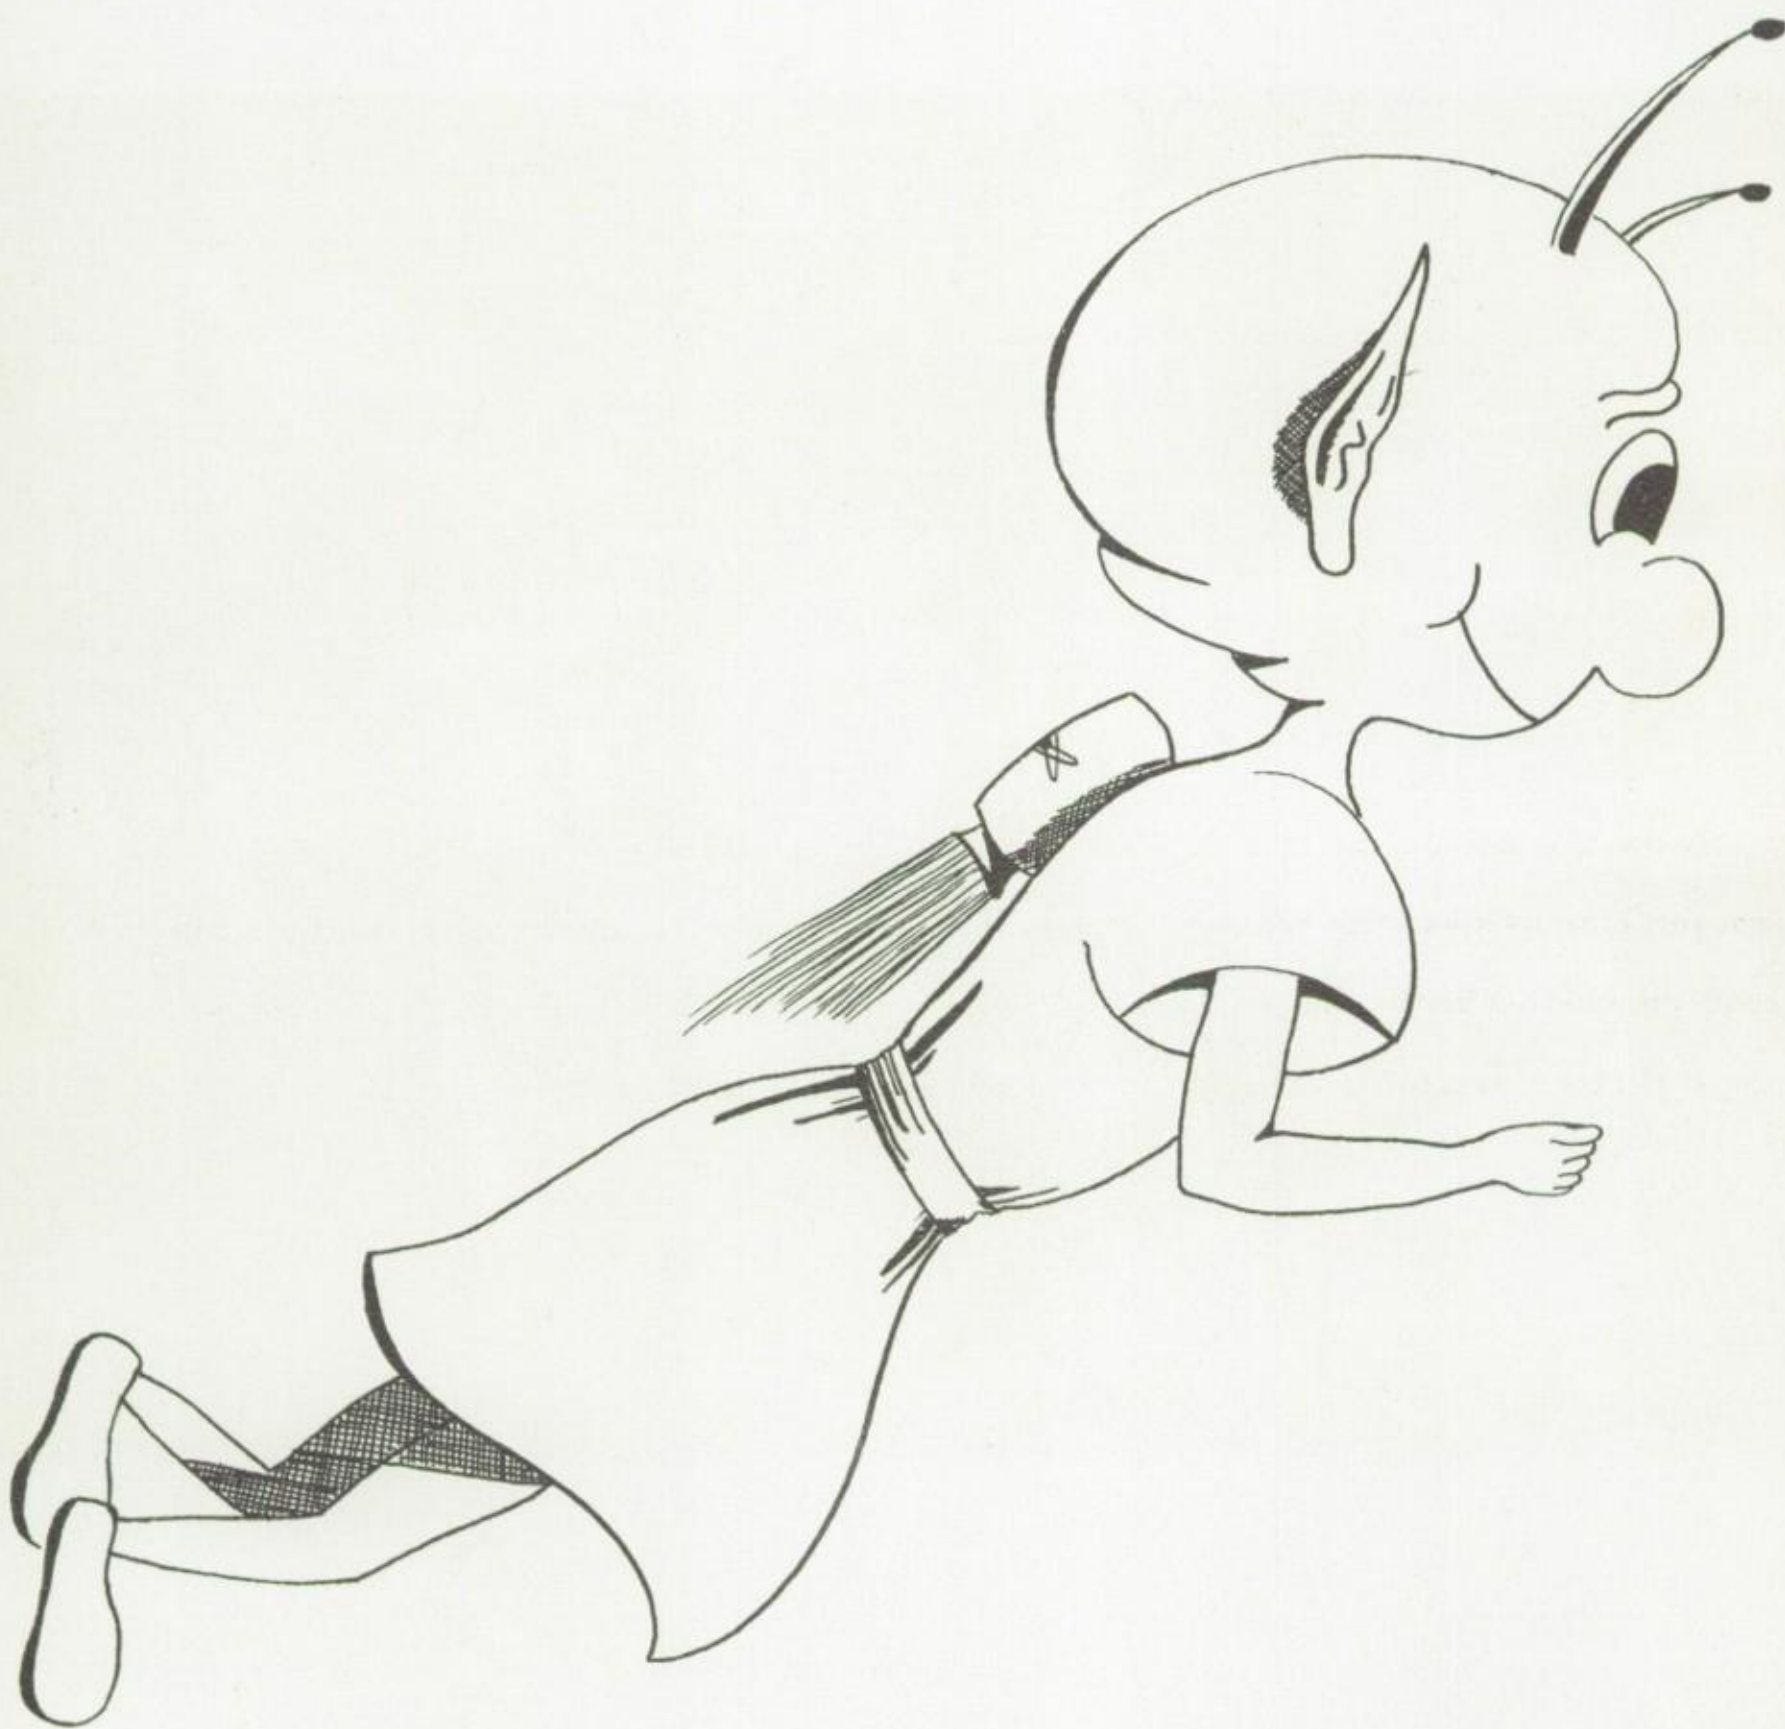

Charlottesville, Virginia

*Lots of luck
keep up the good bowling! Mark Helm etc.*

During the school year 1962-63, Lane was the victim of a friendly invasion. Our space-age visitor was part of an interplanetary exchange program in which a Martian teenager was given an opportunity to study the habits of Earth teenagers. Lane High School was fortunate in being chosen for this venture, and the 1963 CHAIN is proud to introduce our previously invisible alien, EBOR!

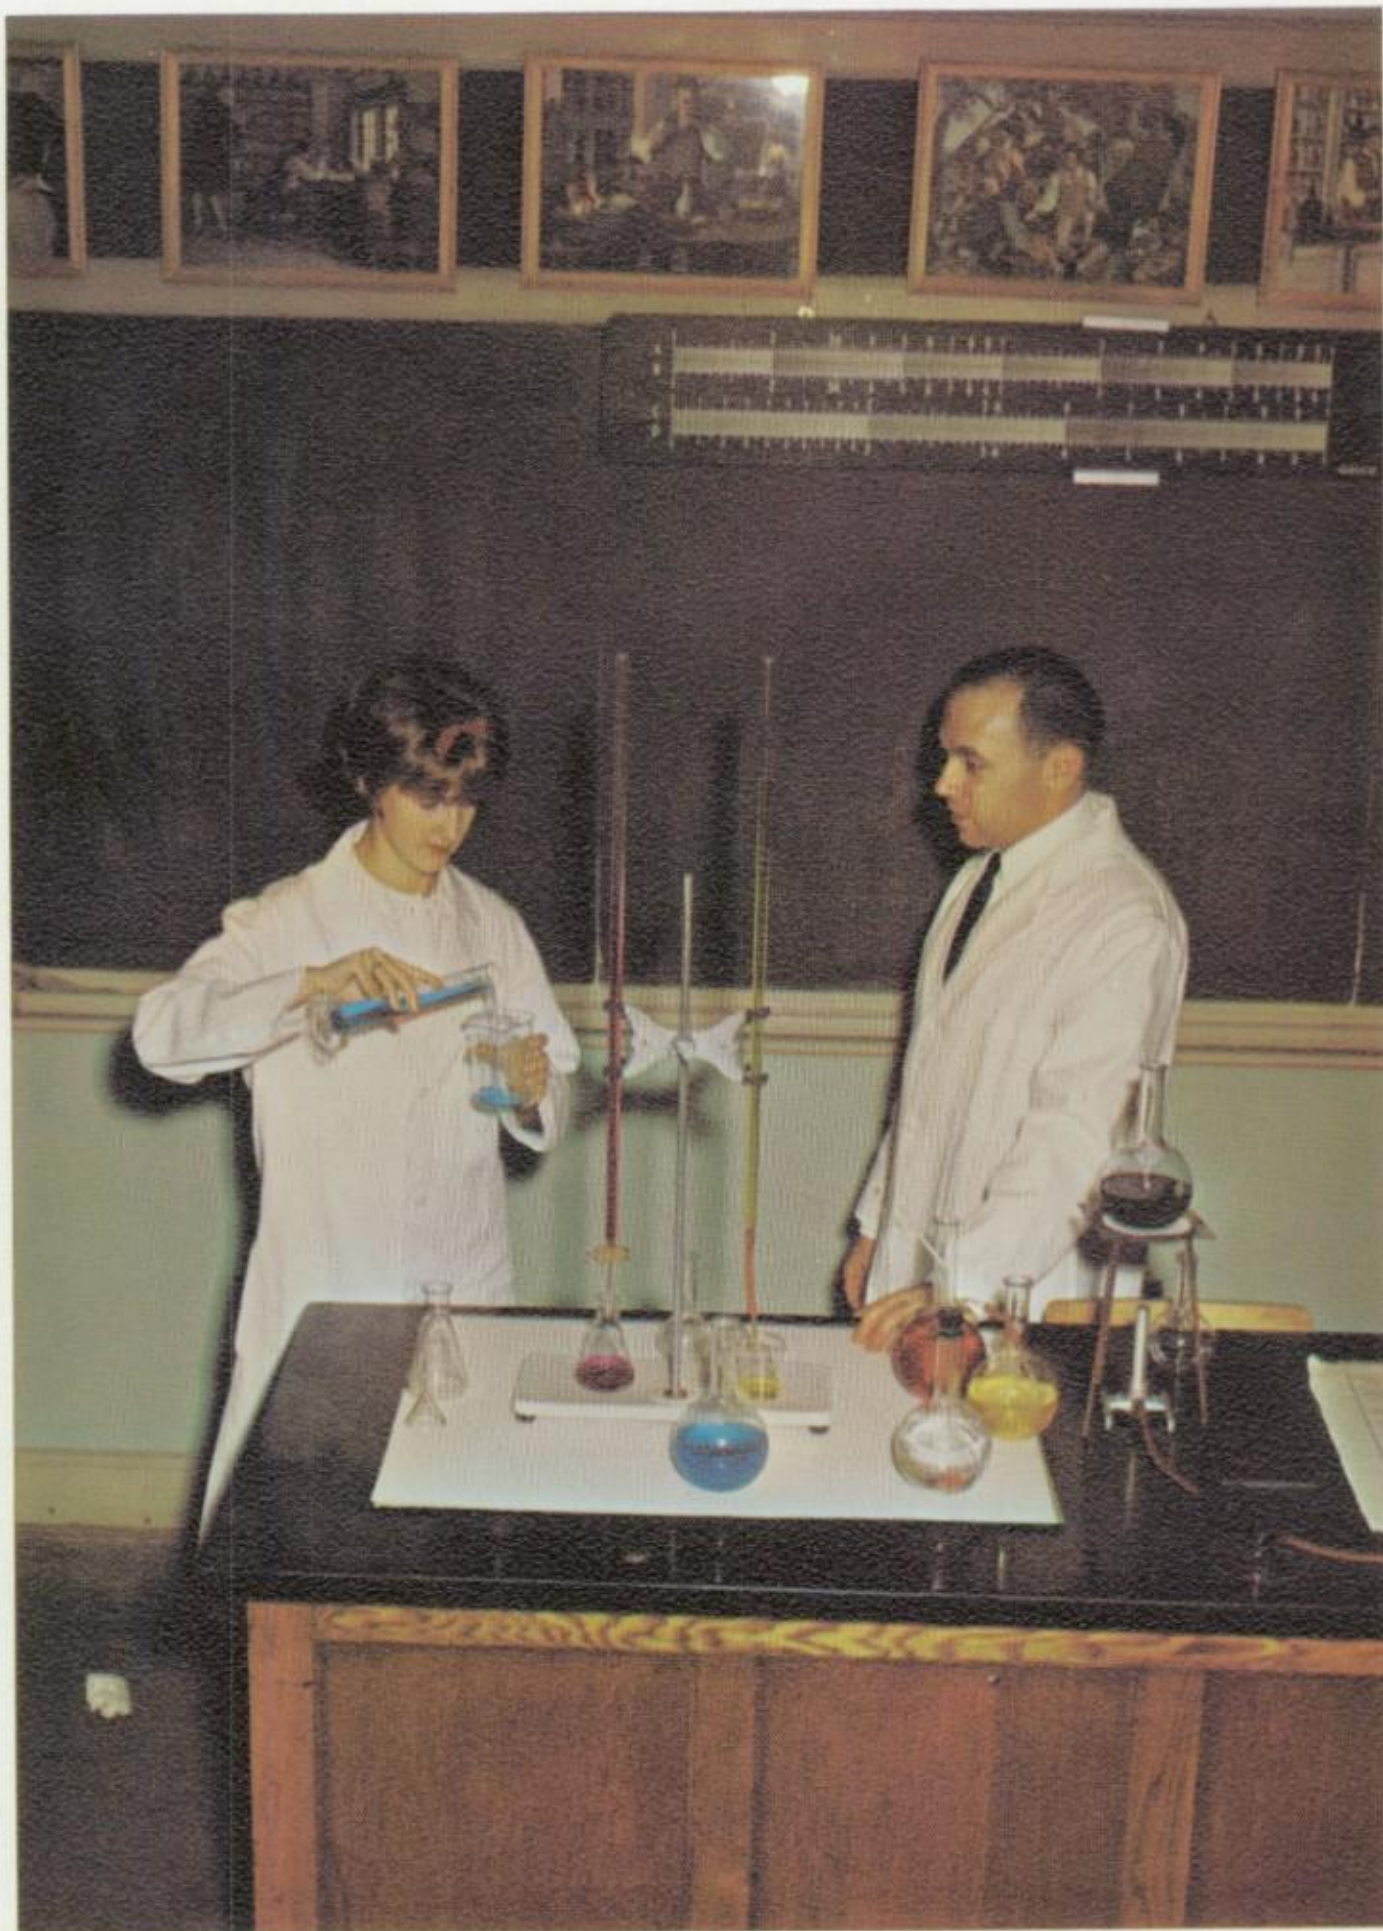

Our Faculty . . .

Well qualified, devoted, Lane's faculty provides leadership, instruction, and guidance for the students in addition to insuring their mastery of academic skills and concepts and taking genuine interest in the progress of the pupil. Pages 14 - 27.

Our Students

In the center of all activities and educational programs are the students, totaling thirteen hundred to make this the largest student body in Lane's history. Pages 30 - 115, 182 - 197.

Our Activities . . .

The many, widely-varied activities at Lane reflect the student's balance of interests and enthusiastic participation. Availability of excellent facilities and sponsorship helps students produce worthwhile efforts, whether in student government, organizations, music, publications, or dramatics. Pages 118 - 149.

Our Athletics . . .

Through success in interscholastic sports, the Lane "Black Knights" do much toward making and spreading the school's fame. The four varsity teams consist of boys who match athletic skill with enthusiasm and willingness to work hard as team members. Pages 152 - 179.

Our Community . . .

Living under the shadow of Mr. Jefferson's University Lane students have unlimited opportunities to indulge in its cultural life. Many businesses and industries in the Charlottesville area provide varied occupations for Lane graduates. Pages, 200 - 216.

Dedication

In appreciation of his musical skill...

In gratitude for his enthusiasm...

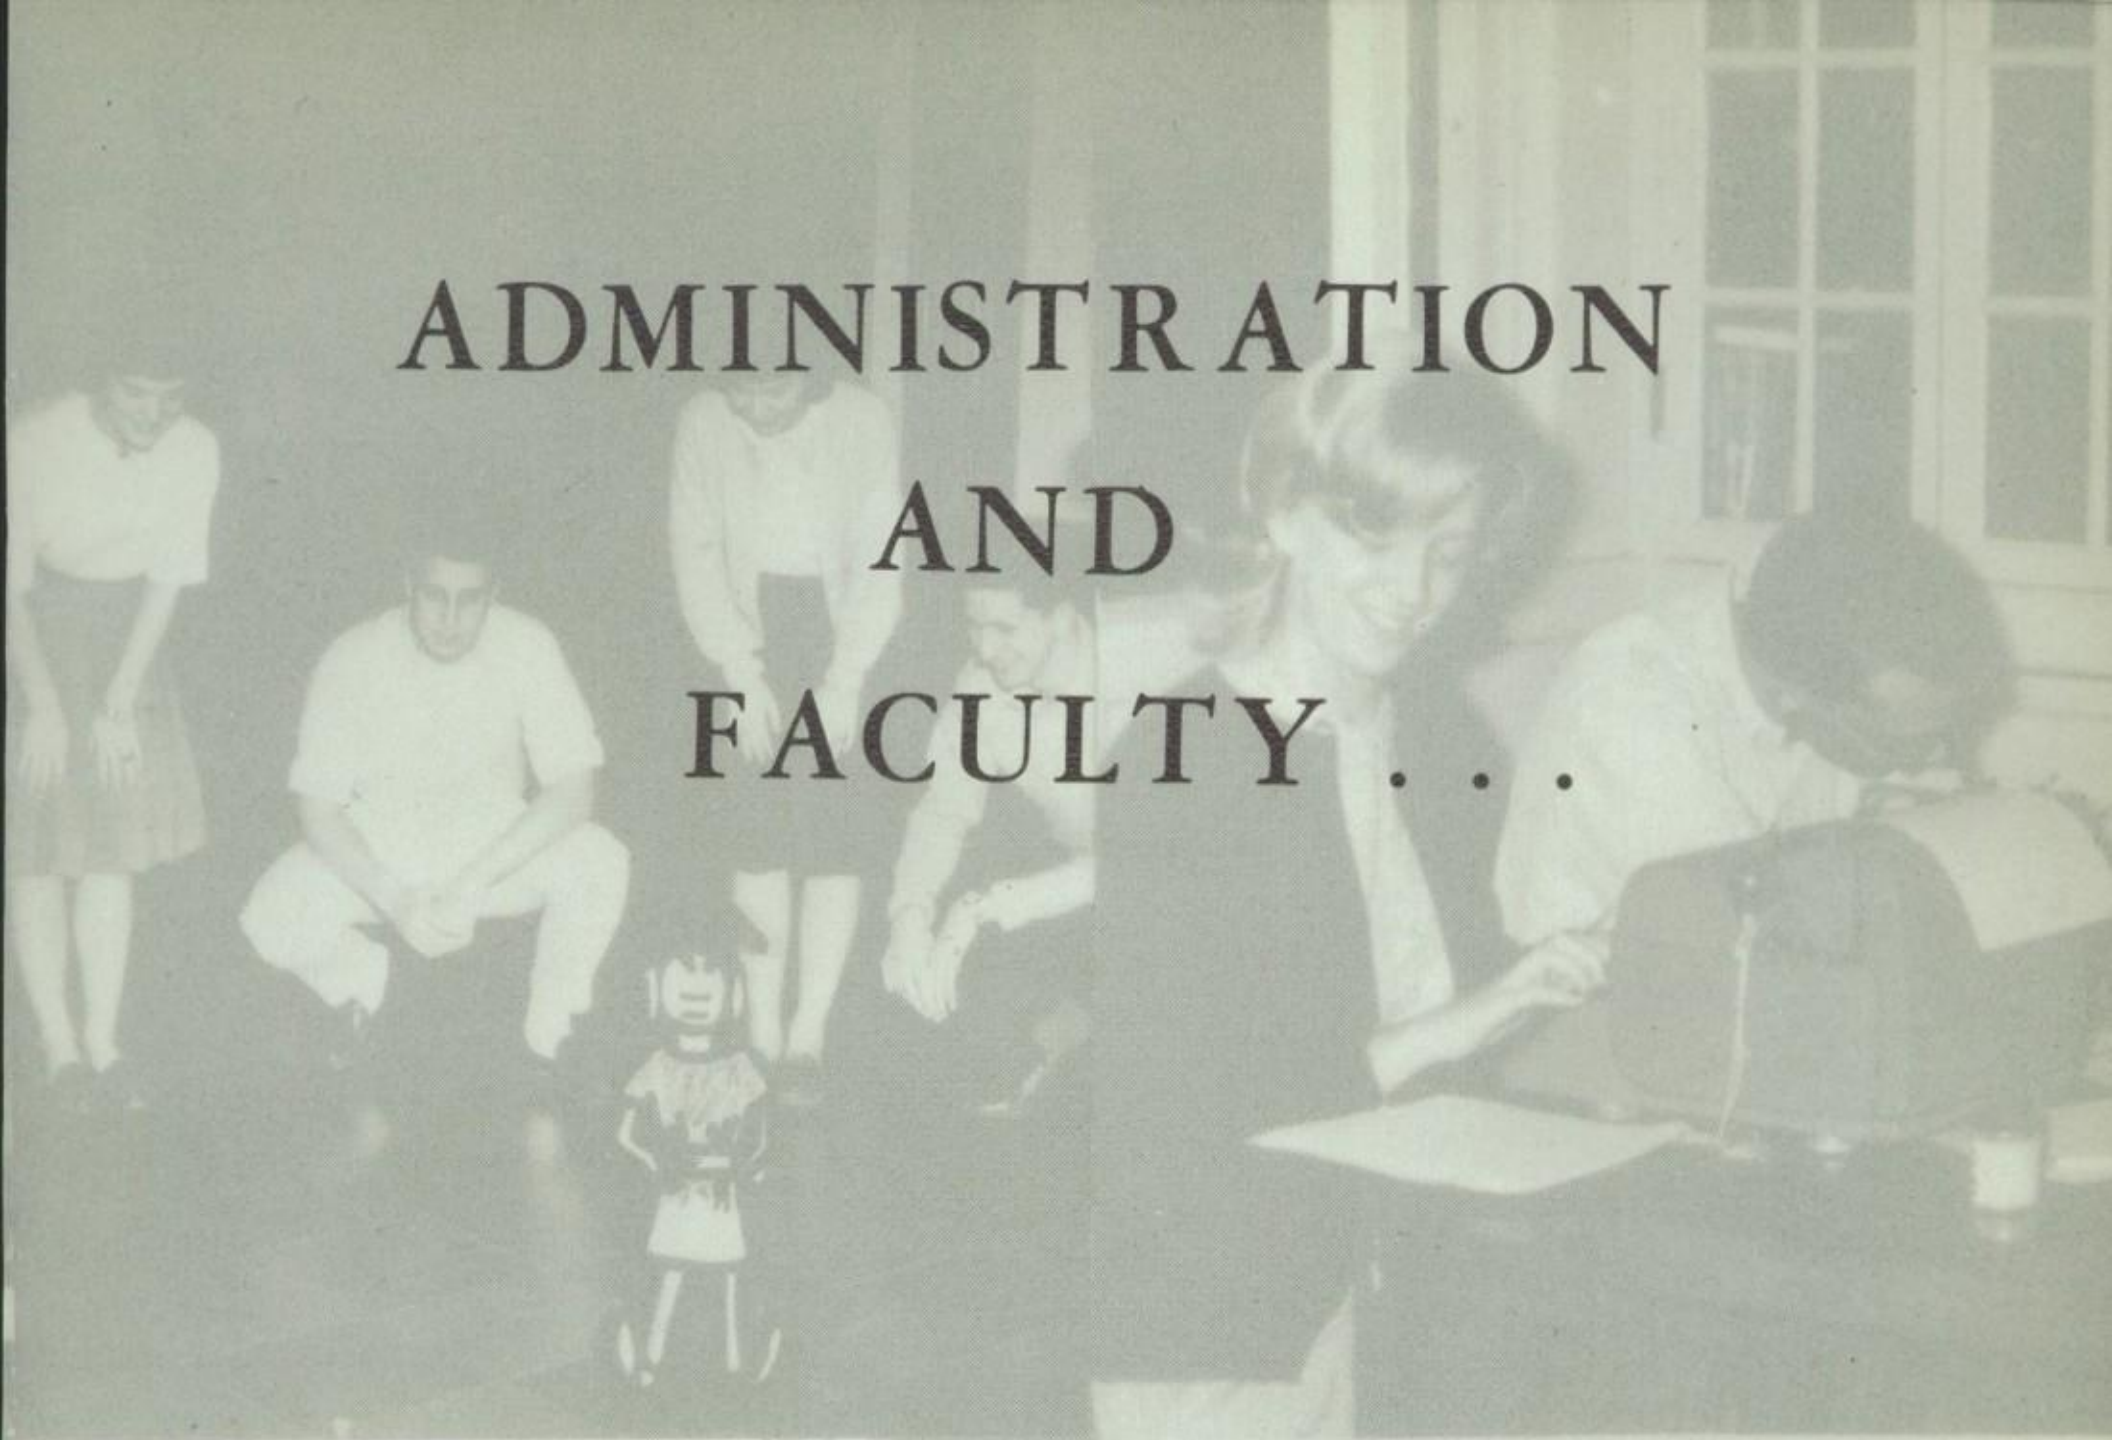

In recognition of his after-school hours given for the improvement of his choirs...

We, the Senior Class of 1963, dedicate the forty-fifth link of the CHAIN to our true friend and helper, Lane's witty choral director...

Dear Richard,

Chippy

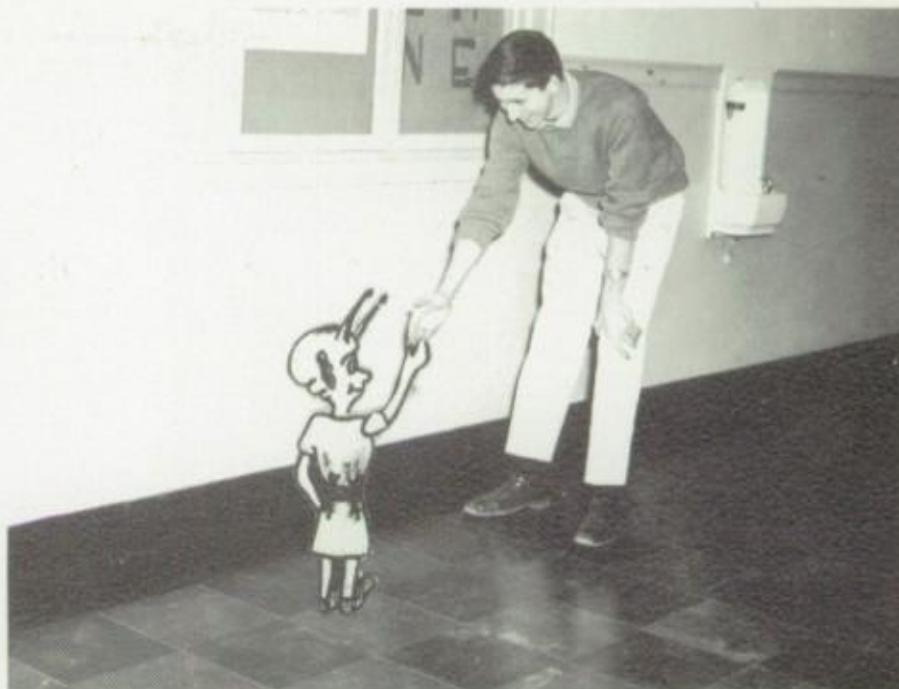

Chippy brings the sun

STEPHEN CHARLES KANITZ
From Sao Paulo, Brazil

and cheer of Brazil to Lane.

Lane's 1963 foreign exchange student, Stephen Kanitz, known around school as "Chip," has left a permanent impression in the minds of all who have known him. He has been an essential part of life at Lane as is evident by the many school and community activities in which he has participated. Chip's enthusiastic school spirit and cheering were unequaled at both football and basketball games. Lane history classes and Charlottesville civic clubs thoroughly enjoyed his many interesting talks and speeches.

One exchange student meets another: Chip and Ebor shake hands.

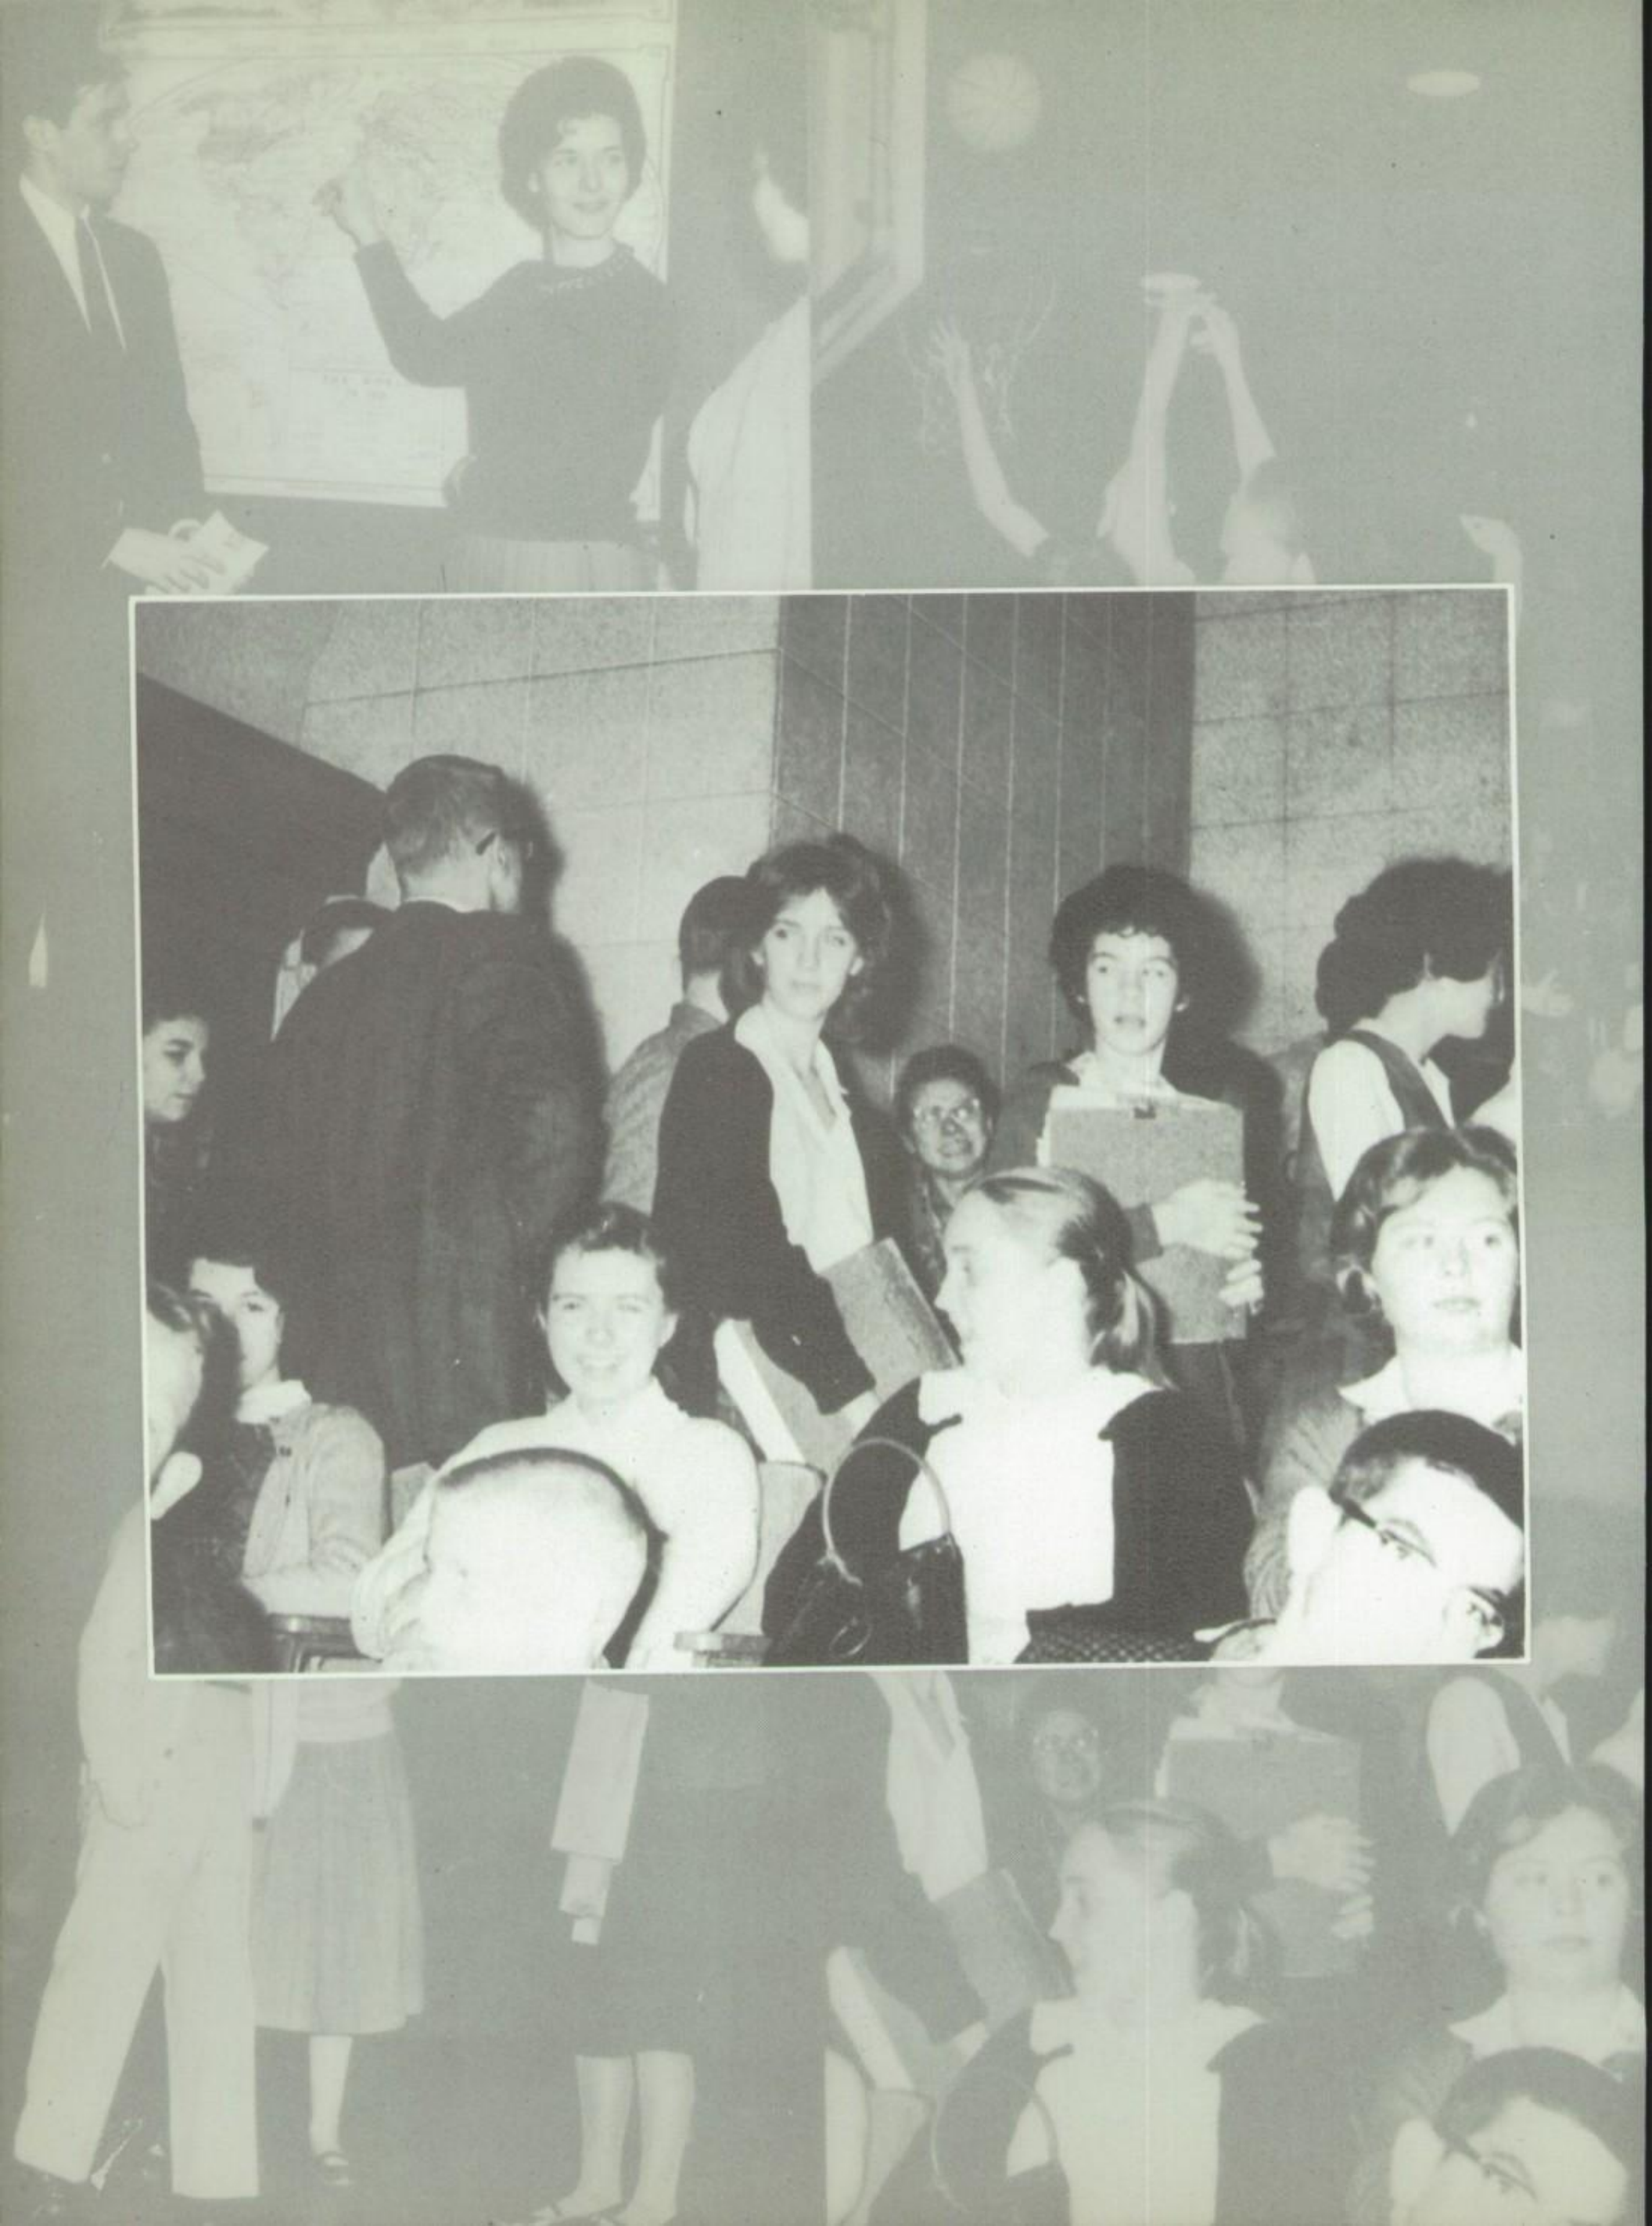

Chip makes his farewell address.

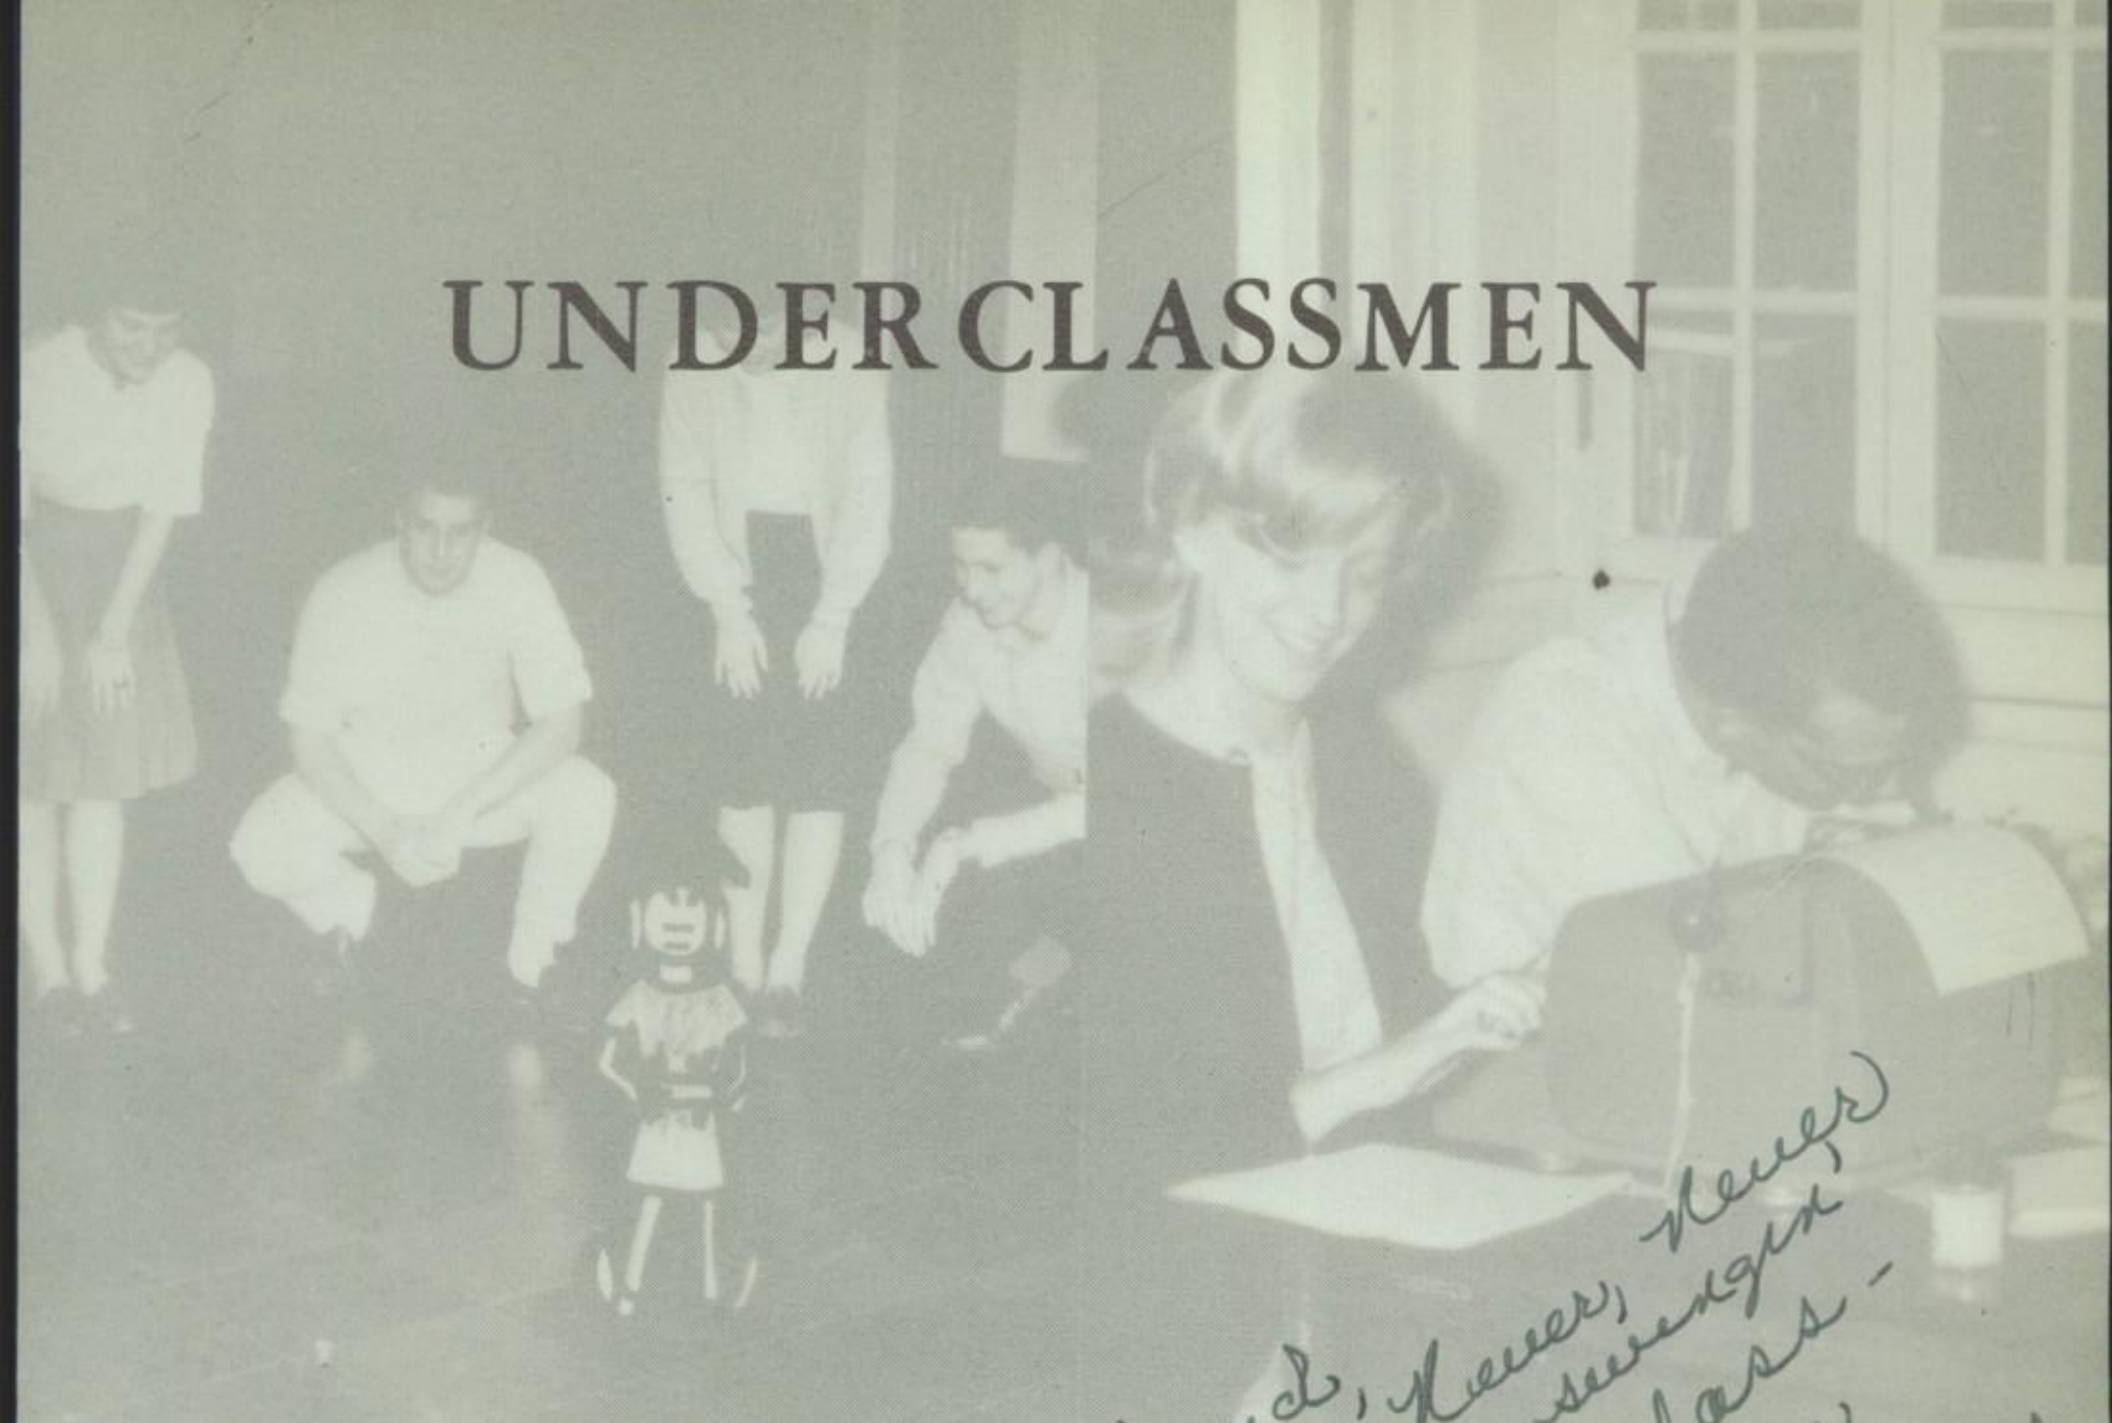

Chippy's friendly spirit is shown by his having been chosen Friendliest Boy of the Senior Class. Chip has brought to Lane the sunny, cheerful atmosphere which is characteristic of his own country, Brazil. With true regret we bid him...Adeus, teremos saudades de voce.

That dazzling smile that dazzles all the girls.

ORGANIZATIONS

STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICERS: Skip McCaughey, Vice-President; Ralph Feil, President; Anne Nichol, Secretary.

The Lane STUDENT

The Student Council, is made up of one representative from each eighth, ninth and tenth grade homerooms, and two representatives from each junior and senior homerooms, and four representatives-at-large.

Our Student Council sent representatives to the Southern Association of Student Councils in Richmond for the first time this year, and representatives to the Piedmont District Meeting in the fall. President Ralph Feil went to Student Council Workshop at Radcliffe. The Council also sent delegates to attend the state convention. The Student Council sponsored the Homecoming football and basketball games and the Foreign Exchange Student Drive.

The Honor Code Committee, composed of seven Student Council members, issues Honor Code cards to applicants and supervises the operation of the code. The President of the Student Council heads the Honor Code Committee; the Council secretary handles the paper work; and the other five members represent each class. This body is a standing committee of the Student Council and tries offenders of the Honor Code. Meetings are held, and students found guilty of breaking the Honor Code are punished according to the offense. The members of the Committee have worked throughout the year to strengthen Lane's Honor System.

HONOR CODE COMMITTEE: Ralph Feil, Anne Nichol, Kathie Crispell, Richard Severin, Mickey Bickers, David Trice, Eddie Campbell.

The Rules Committee, created as a standing committee of the Student Council, deals with infractions of school rules and trancies. The Vice-President of the Student Council presides over this five member committee composed of juniors and seniors elected by the Student Council from its own membership.

RULES COMMITTEE: Cindy Skogen, Betty Dovel, Mike Colo, Gene Arnette, Skip McCaughey.

The Inter-Club Council, a subdivision of the Student Council, acts as a clearinghouse for all the organizations at Lane. Its main purpose is to coordinate group activities, set up schedules, and stimulate cooperation among the student clubs. The officers are elected by the Student Council and representatives are elected by the different organizations.

Lane's Ushers' Club is composed of seventeen juniors and seniors headed by the President of the Student Council. These students are selected from a list of applicants by the Student Council and its sponsors. Members supervise lunch activities, maintain order on the first floor at lunch periods, and usher at assemblies and concerts.

If you have ever noticed LANETIME staff members with a distracted and slightly frantic appearance, chances are it was a deadline day for the newspaper. In spite of the last minute rush and numerous emergencies, the issues appeared every third week as scheduled.

The LANETIME presents news of school events, special features, editorials, complete sports coverage, and stories and poems written by the students. In order to encourage students to become aware of their school's problems, editorials frequently offer suggestions for dealing with various school difficulties.

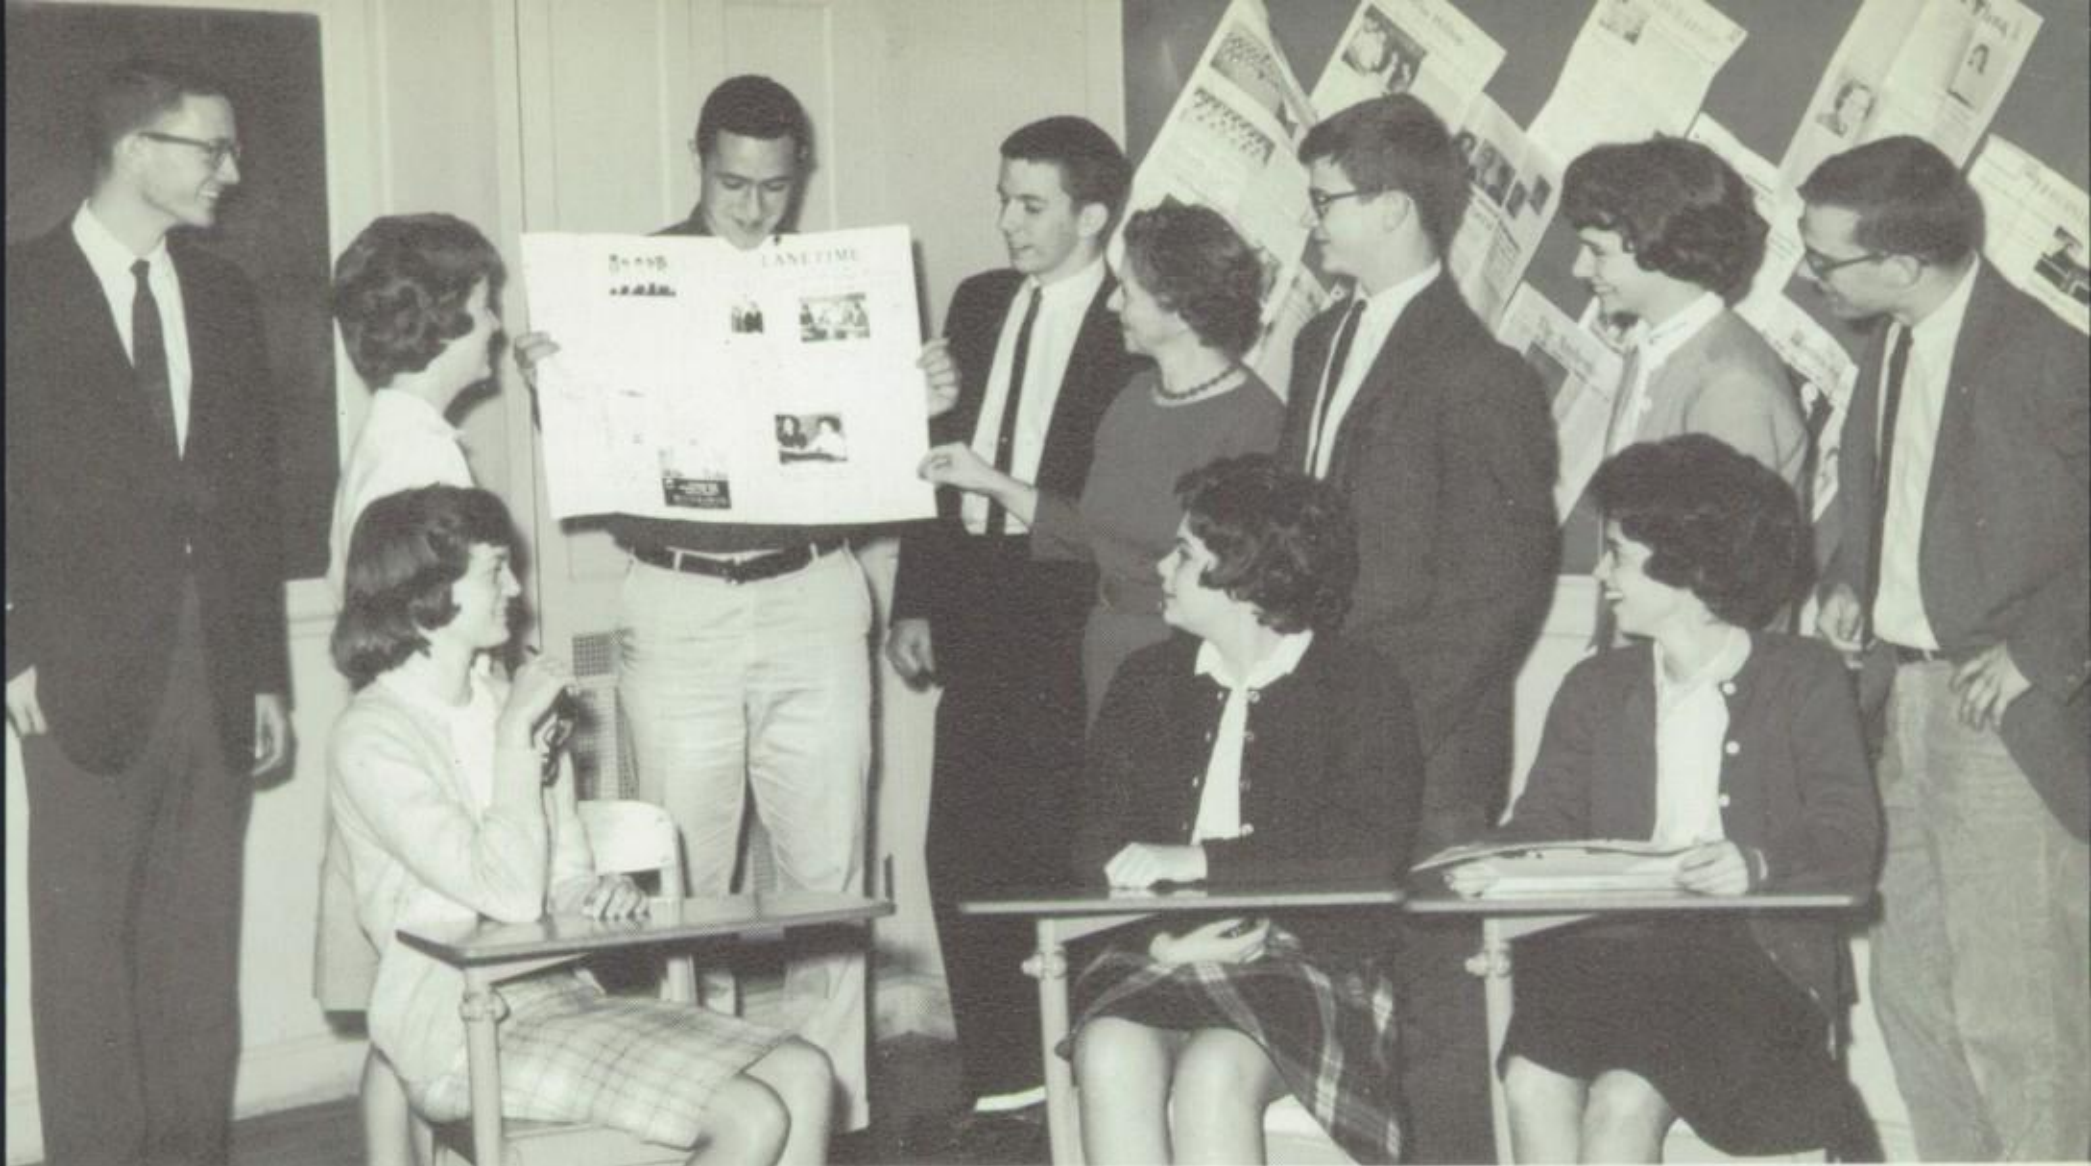

Last spring the LANETIME won the Southern Interscholastic Press Association trophy for the best newspaper published by a high school of our size. It also won the Virginia High School League trophy. This fall the sponsor, Miss Alice Elam, and five other members of the staff attended the High School Newspaper Clinic in Richmond.

The BUMBLEBEE is the literary magazine published twice a year by a staff of Lane students. It is composed of essays, poems, and short short stories written by the students. Last year the BUMBLEBEE won the Southern Interscholastic Press Association award for the best literary magazine published by a high school of our size. The BUMBLEBEE put out its first Christmas issue this past December. The second issue appeared in May.

Miss Elizabeth Makaritis, our advisor.

The CHAIN Staff began to collect ads from local merchants during the summer while most students were still vacationing. The response to requests for advertising was good, and many new subscribers were added to the annual's ad section.

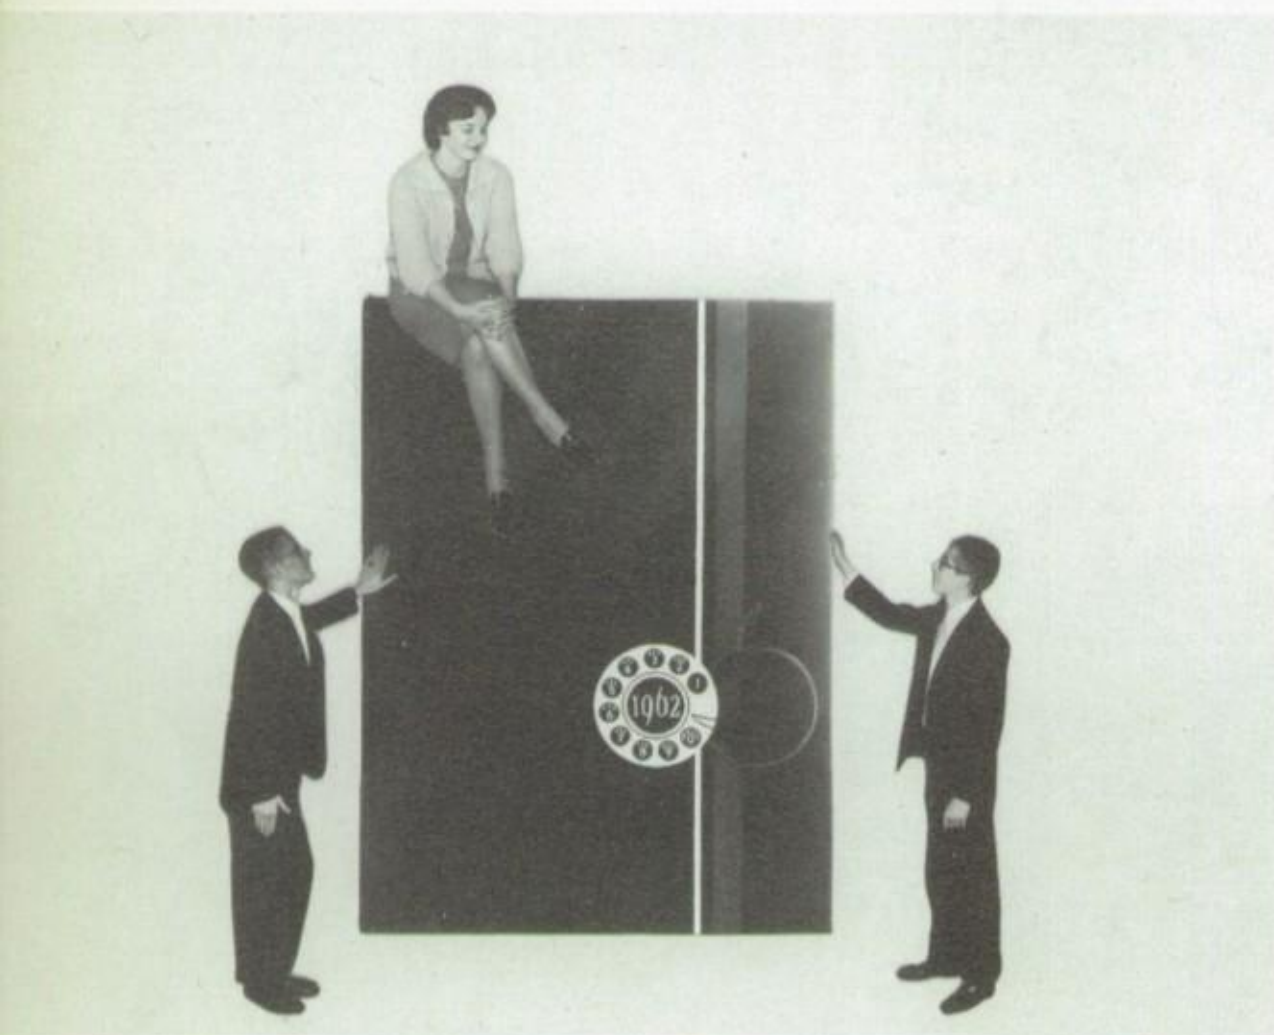

The first part of the year was spent in selling subscriptions to Laneites. The receipts were made out and distributed to the students through a renovated system devised by our former sponsor.

The hectic time of picture taking plagued many a teacher with the time-worn announcement, "Would the members of the...please come..." (Remember, Miss Horwitz?). Mr. Karl Phillips of Roanoke photographed the students of Lane this year.

The deadline set by the publisher served as an impetus to the "CHAIN Gang" to draw up the pages, identify the pictures, and write the copy. During the year the CHAIN staff could usually be found in 217 diligently producing this annual.

Members of the CHAIN staff attended the Southern Interscholastic Press Association convention at Washington and Lee last spring. They attended lectures and gained many new ideas.

The Lane High

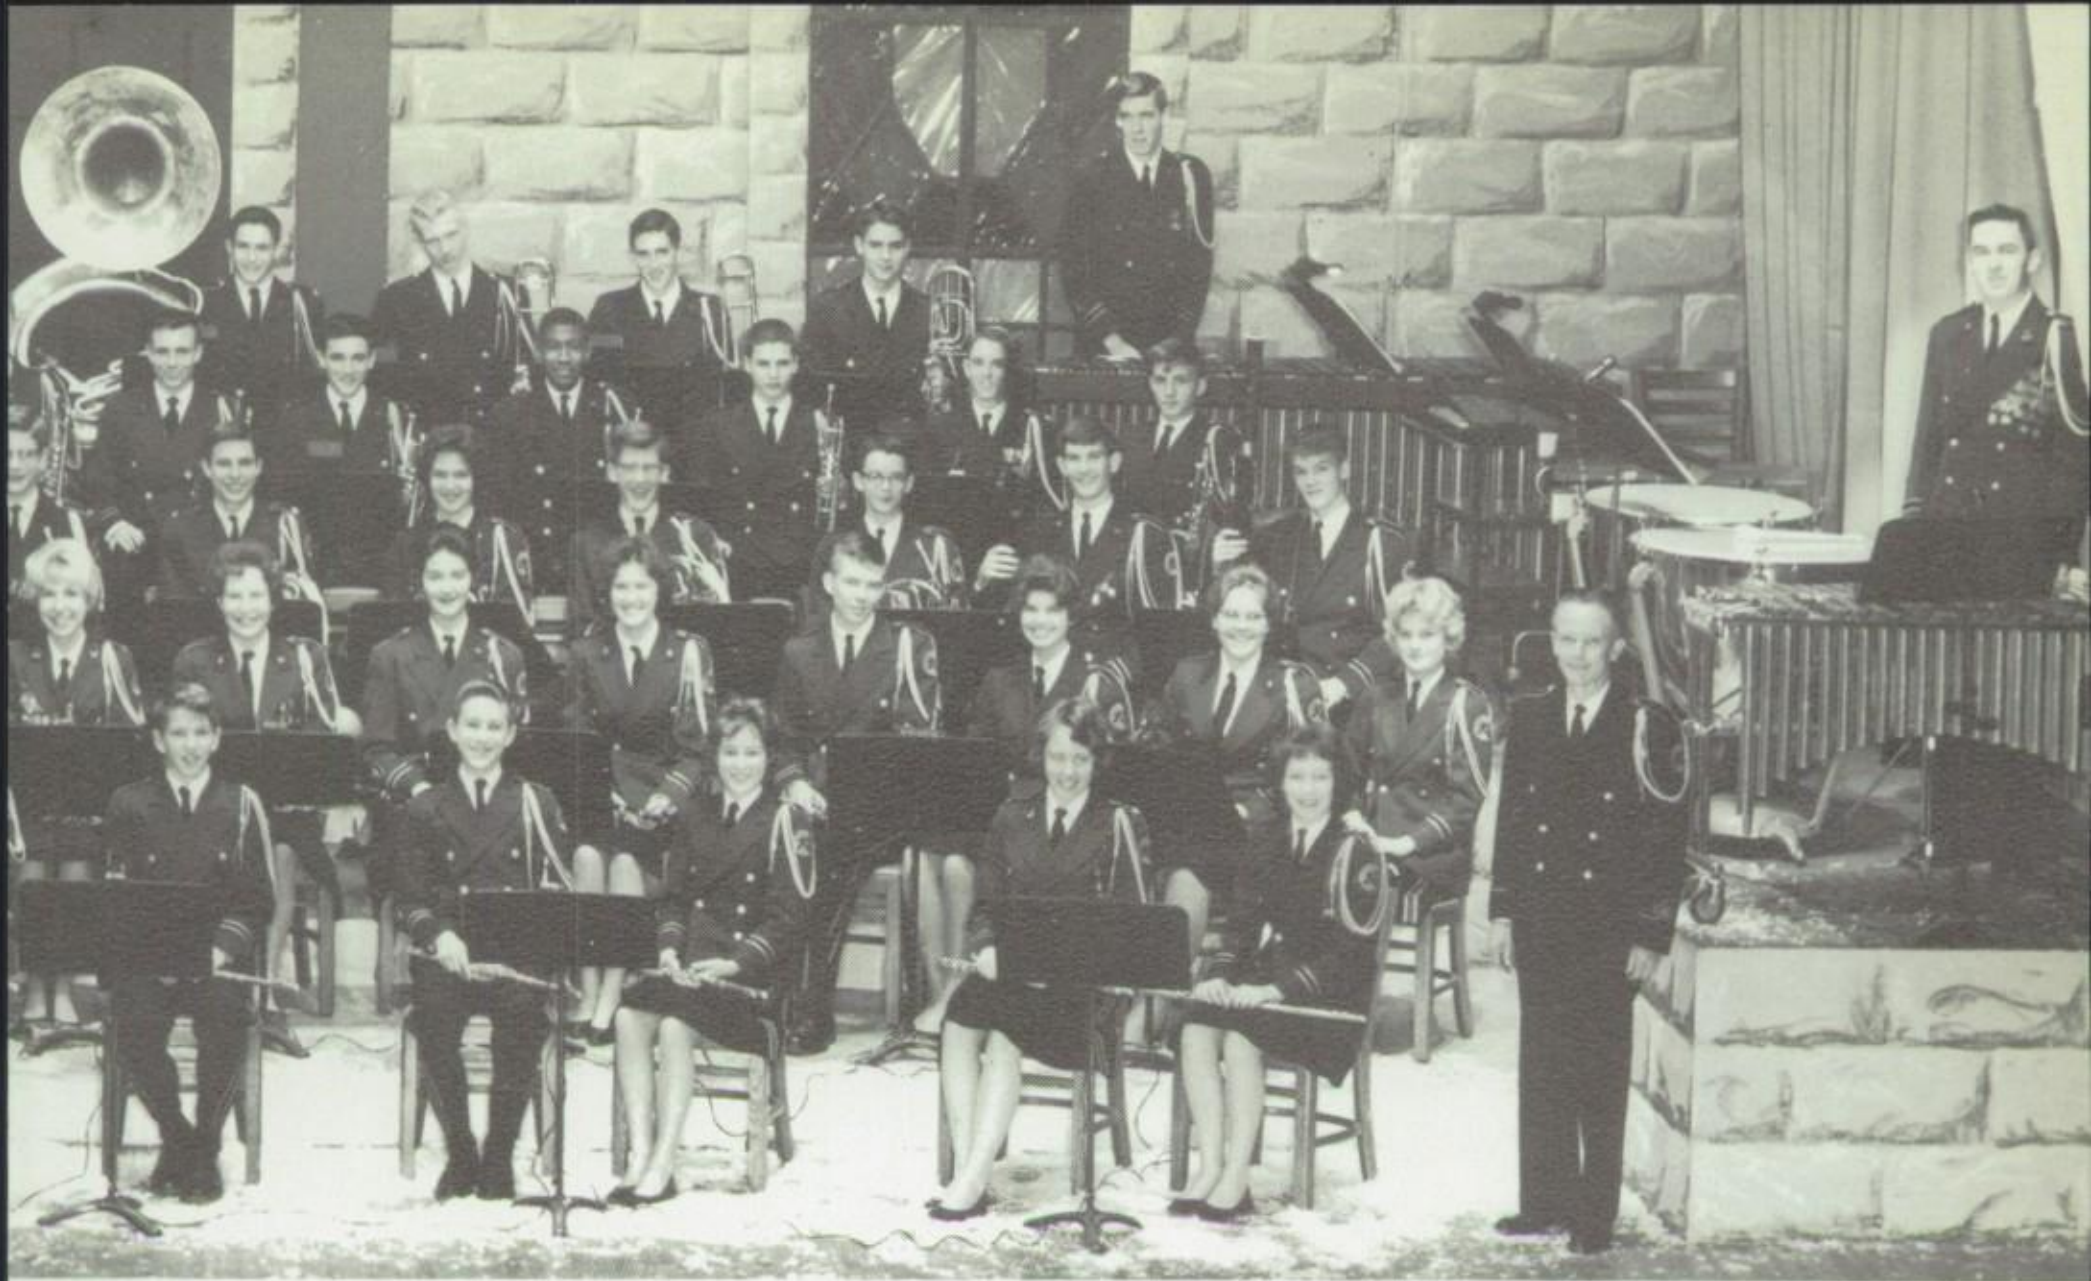

BAND OFFICERS: L. G. Leake, President; Jo Ann Haden, Secretary; Dana Spencer, Treasurer; Ronnie Hess, Vice-President.

The Lane High Band is recognized as one of the outstanding high school bands in the nation. It has won top honors in music festivals for more years than any other band in Virginia.

This year's band has been one of the youngest and largest, yet one of the musically finest in the twenty-three years of the Lane Band's existence. It thrilled large audiences at its Autumn, Christmas, and Spring Concerts. The annual concerts at each of the elementary schools have become popular spring events.

The Marching Band performed at football games and parades, and the Pep Band put the student body in high spirits at pep rallies. Eighteen members were chosen for All-State Band participation, and many soloists and small ensembles took part in spring festivals.

The diligent band members!

The year 1962-63 was an especially full one for the Lane Concert Choir. In addition to the traditional concerts of the fall and spring, a delightful Christmas Concert was given in December. Appearing on the stage with the Concert Choir was the Treble Choir and fifty boys and girls from Charlottesville's elementary schools. In March the choir performed an all-sacred program featuring Gounod's St. Cecelia Mass.

The Pep Band helps the cheerleaders raise school spirits.

The Concert Choir, numbering about ninety singers, is the largest in Lane's history. Because of this abundance of talent, Mr. Sergeant was able to form the Lane Chorale, composed of twenty selected voices from the Concert Choir. This group sang for many civics clubs and organizations during the year. The concert Choir also contributed seasonal music for the Retail Merchants' Association's annual Christmas party in late November.

The Key Club, . . .

The Key Club's main function is to act as a service club to the school and community. Key Club members perform the regular duties of raising and taking down the flags and keeping the bottles in the cafeteria in order. The Key Club donated new flags to the school for use in the auditorium, helped the Kiwanis Club sell Christmas trees, and sold used books. Another example of the Key Club's service is the car wash to raise money for the March of Dimes.

SENIOR TRI-HI-Y OFFICERS: First row: Gladys Witter, Treasurer; Creggie Salisbury, President; Sandy Deane, Vice-President; Kathie Crispell, Secretary. Second row: Susan Jones, Inter-Club Council Representative; Betty Dovel, Chaplain; Helen Dunnigan, Historian.

The Senior Tri-Hi-Y, under the sponsorship of Miss Lillian Butt and Mrs. Betty Pittman, has contributed to school, community, and national services.

The girls were responsible for placing the "Thought of Week" on a blackboard in every classroom. They donated money to the Santa Claus Fund and articles of clothing to the Needle Work Guild. The March of Dimes received support from the Senior Tri-Hi-Y this year also.

Interested members attended the Hi-Y District Conference in Staunton and representatives gained valuable experience in legislative procedures at the Model General Assembly in Richmond. The ultimate goal of the Senior Tri-Hi-Y is to promote general discussion and understanding of problems of religion and modern life.

Tri-Hi-Y, and . . .

The purpose of the Junior Tri-Hi-Y is "to create, maintain, and extend, throughout the home, school, and community, high standards of Christian character." During the year the members participated in numerous service projects for the benefit of the school and community. Visiting churches and having bake sales to raise money for the Santa Claus Fund and the March of Dimes were among the many projects which were undertaken.

Membership in the Senior Hi-Y, a division of the Y.M.C.A., is limited to members of the sophomore, junior and senior classes. All students in the club pledge to uphold the purpose of the organization which is "to create, maintain and extend throughout the home, school, and community higher standards of Christian character."

This year the club instituted a varied program. During the first semester a study of comparative religions was carried out. Persons of different religions spoke to the club about their respective beliefs. Various professional people spoke to the club about the choice of a career during the second semester. Also foreign persons in town related to members many interesting facts about their countries and customs. In the spring, representatives of the Hi-Y attended the Model General Assembly in Richmond. The year was ended with a joint banquet of the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs.

The Science Club is composed of students who are interested in various aspects of scientific exploration and who work together to broaden their knowledge and skills. It is affiliated with both state and national science organizations. Although there is no prerequisite for membership, most members are enrolled in science courses.

To aid its members in their search for information in their particular fields of interest, the club invited guest lecturers. Experts from the University of Virginia and the community spoke on many topics including radio, astronomy, the effects of radiation, the effects on plant growth of certain enzymes, and methods of fallout protection. In addition to separate projects done by individual members, the club as a whole worked on a research project to be entered in science fair competition. The club also took its annual trip to Washington, D. C.

Under the guidance of Richard Ashby, the Debate and Forensics Club spends many hours preparing debating techniques. This year's topic is, Resolved: That the United States should promote and join in forming a common market in the Western Hemisphere. Mrs. Lowe and Mr. Small, sponsors of the club, give advice to the members.

The club members form one negative and one affirmative team. They debate teams from several nearby schools. In February every member is invited to attend the annual debating clinic at the University of Virginia. There, Karen Sjostrom and Richard Ashby received outstanding recognition. In early March the team goes to the University of Richmond for the State Debate Tournament. On March 30, the team attends a District Meet at Douglas Freeman High School.

The purpose of the Junior Players' Club is to give ninth graders the opportunity to appear on the stage in order that they might make a more mature contribution to the Senior Players' Club. During the year the members produced the play Medieval Madness, adapted from Idylls of the King by Tennyson. The charter members of the club wrote the script, many portraying the lead roles; all of the Junior Players' Club had some part in the production.

JUNIOR PLAYERS' CLUB OFFICERS: Lindsay Blanton, Treasurer; Gray Patterson, Vice-President; Scott Leake, President; Kit Smith, Secretary; John Goodman, Inter-Club Council Representative.

The Senior Players' Club is the dramatic organization of Lane High School. The first activity this year was the pot-luck supper held in the Lane cafeteria. The group heard guest speakers from the University of Virginia. At this time, plans were made for a poetry reading to be given to the student body.

Each spring the Senior Players' Club produces a play to be presented in Richmond for High School district competition. Our play, Aria de Capo, received the rating of superior.

French and Spanish Clubs learn about

The French Club, now in its fourth year, has as its main objective a study of the customs, people, and politics of France. A student is qualified for membership when he has completed at least one year of French. Every meeting is conducted completely in French, with a penny penalty for each word of English spoken.

The Club subscribes to French magazines, and some of the members have French pen pals. Many speakers have come to give interesting lectures about France.

A major plan under discussion this year is a trip to France during the summer. Although there has been much excitement over this idea, it is still a plan for the future.

The Spanish Club, revived again after three years, is composed of second-year students. Its purpose is to create an active and wide interest in the Spanish language and customs.

The club learned Spanish songs and Christmas carols. A study was made of two Spanish dances, the rumba and the flamenco, with which the students had a great deal of fun. At Christmas time the club held a Pinata Fiesta which was enjoyed by all.

During the year members work in various aspects of their field such as sales demonstrations, job interviews, and ad-making. They prepare projects which are entered in district, state, and national competitions.

Monogram Club and GAA provide sports . . .

The purpose of the Monogram Club is to promote better sportsmanship on and off the playing field. When not participating in an athletic contest, the members are busy with different activities, among which are working the concession stands for football and basketball games, taking up tickets for the games, and raising money for buying new uniforms for the teams. Some of this money also goes to the varsity cheerleaders and provides award ribbons for the track meets.

One is eligible for membership in the Monogram Club after earning a varsity letter. It is an honor for an athlete to be able to wear the emblem of the Monogram Club.

The Girls' Athletic Association gives Lane girls who are interested in sports an opportunity to participate in them outside of Physical Education class. One of the chief objectives of the club is to encourage sportsmanship. A knowledge of and a respect for the rules of the games are stressed. Every girl is encouraged to play hard and to win or lose graciously.

This organization, although not lacking in enthusiastic membership, is greatly handicapped by a lack of facilities during the winter months when the male athletes use the gym. In the spring, however, when the men retire to the track and diamond, the club makes up for lost time with hotly contested basketball, volleyball, and badminton tournaments.

The newly formed clubs, Jets, . . .

The Lane High School chapter of the Junior Engineering Technical Society has been in existence since 1957. However, in recent years it has been active primarily through physics and chemistry classes. At the close of the 1961-62 school year plans were made to reactivate the group as a club with the emphasis on promoting interest in engineering through the youth in our community. To achieve this goal the club meets twice a month. Many guest speakers have given informative talks to the members.

Other activities have included field trips to observe the practical applications of engineering, and projects to further the education of the members of the club in relation to engineering.

JETS OFFICERS: Mr. Reitz, Sponsor; Allen Nichols, Vice-President; Bill Lowry, President; Blas Cabrera, Secretary.

. . . Red Cross Council, and Gymnastic Club

The newly-formed Red Cross Council is organized like the Student Council with a representative from each homeroom. The purposes of the Council are to create world understanding, promote health and safety, and serve the community.

The Red Cross Council has had several projects during the year. Among them are the gift boxes which go to needy people around the world. The Council also supervised the making of stuffed toys for small children who have had losses in tragedy-stricken areas. Another project was a correspondence album (scrapbook) to promote friendship and understanding all over the world. It is a colorful and attractive handmade album describing some phases of American life. The Council also held an art exhibit in which donations from pupils taking art were combined into an exhibit to be displayed in high schools throughout the world.

Lane approached the 1962 football season with high hopes of success and was not disappointed, only an opening game loss to Thomas Jefferson preventing the Black Knights from going undefeated. After the loss to T. J., Lane defeated Stafford, Herndon, William Fleming, James Monroe, Hopewell, George Washington, Orange, Douglas Freeman, and Prince George.

In the first game with T. J., mistakes and home-run plays led to the Knight's downfall; the Jeffs scored on a twenty-five yard run, a long pass, a run with a recovered fumble, a safety, and an extra point. Ralph Feil and Gene Arnette scored the Knight's touchdowns, making the final score 21-12.

Next Lane faced Stafford and came away with an easy 45-0 victory. The Black Knights scored every time they had the ball in the first half, putting the game out of reach. In all, eight players scored points for Lane.

Continuing their high scoring, the Knights routed Herndon 45-12; and the Black Knights again cashed in on every scoring opportunity in the first half to take a 31-0 lead. After the starters racked up another touchdown, the second and third stringers finished up the second half.

The next team to challenge the Knights was William Fleming of Roanoke. Twice in the first quarter Lane advanced inside Fleming's twenty yard line, only to fumble each time. Early in the second quarter, the visitors mounted their only real threat. A Fleming back broke through the Lane line and raced to the Knight nine yard line, where a desperation, lunging tackle by Mike Colo prevented a touchdown. The Knights held for downs and took possession of the ball. After several punts, Colo intercepted a pass in his own end zone and ran it out to the thirty-one. From there the Knights marched the length of the field, scoring on a ten yard pass from Arnette to halfback Mickey Bickers with forty-five seconds left in the half. After receiving the second half kickoff, the Knights quickly scored again on a ten yard run by Arnette, making the score 12-0. In the final period, fullback Brock Strickler finished the scoring with a fine sixty-eight yard run. Arnette added the extra point, making the final score 19-0.

Traveling to James Monroe for their next encounter, the Knights shut out the usually high-scoring Yellow Jackets by a score of 13-0. Monroe entered Lane territory only once. The Black Knights scored on touchdowns by Arnette and Strickler and on the conversion by Steve Coleman.

At Hopewell the Knights played their closest game of the year, coming from behind to edge the Blue Devils 14-13. Hopewell jumped to a quick 7-0 lead; the Knights, however, fought back to tie the score on a five yard burst by Ralph Feil. The Blue Devils soon scored again on Bobby Franklin's second touchdown and left the field on the long end of a 13-7 score. But the Knights were not to be denied. Taking the second half kickoff, they drove seventy-five yards for the tying touchdown. George Foussekis scored the touchdown on a short pass from Arnette, dragging several Blue Devils across the goal line with him. Coleman's second extra point provided the Knights with their winning margin.

Returning home, Lane encountered George Washington of Danville and came away with a 7-0 victory. The Knights scored their touchdown on a one foot plunge by Jimmy Smith, climaxing a ninety-yard drive. Coleman kicked the extra point. In the remainder of the game the Knights started numerous drives, only to see them ended by fumbles. George Washington was, however, unable to muster a serious threat so that the final score remained 7-0.

The Black Knights next faced Orange County High School in a game of great sectional interest. The fired-up Hornets held the Knights to a 0-0 stalemate for the first half. Twice Lane was stopped inside the Orange ten yard line and three more times inside the thirty. The Hornet's deepest penetration was to the Black Knight's thirty yard line. Finally, with slightly over a minute left in the third quarter, the Knights scored on a six inch plunge by Arnette, Coleman adding the extra point. The drive originated on the Hornet's twenty-seven after Foussekis blocked a punt and recovered the ball. After several exchanges, Orange scored with two minutes left in the game on a thirty-five yard punt return; but a run for the extra point failed. Jimmy Smith closed out the scoring on a sixty yard run with forty-six seconds left, making the final score 13-7.

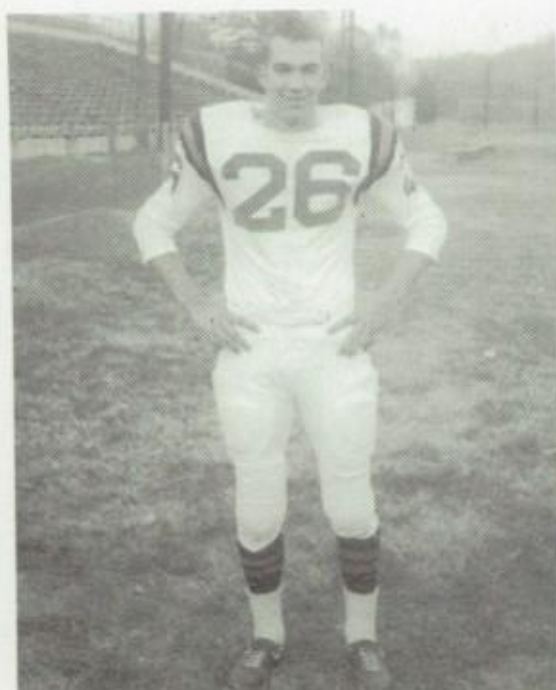

Douglas Freeman, Lane's next opponent, was probably the toughest team the Knight's faced. There was plenty of incentive for both teams. For the Rebels, a win would practically clinch the district championship; for the Black Knights, the game was Homecoming. After kicking off, the Knights held for downs and, following the Freeman punt, took over possession on their twenty-two yard line and marched seventy-eight yards in seventeen plays. Brock Strickler capped the drive with a short plunge. Coleman's extra-point try was, however, off to the right. Taking the second half kick-off, Lane reached pay-dirt on Strickler's second score. This time Coleman converted successfully, making the score 13-0. The Knights again forced Freeman to punt, but the punt was fumbled, and the Rebels recovered on the Knight's twenty-four yard line. After seven plays the score stood at 13-7. Taking the kickoff, Lane began a drive only to see it immediately thwarted on a pass interception deep in their own territory; Freeman quickly scored, making the score 13-13. The Rebels lost their chance to take the lead when the extra point attempt was wide. After receiving the kickoff, the Knights were held for downs and had to punt. With two minutes, fourteen seconds remaining in the game, a fourth down and eighteen yards to go, the Rebels elected to go for the yardage. James Easton broke through the Freeman line and dropped the Rebel quarterback on the sixteen yard line. From there the Knights scored in four plays, with Strickler going over from the two yard line. The extra point was good, making the final score 20-13.

Still tired and letdown after the Freeman victory, the game having been played on a Monday night, the Knights were forced to come from behind twice to defeat Prince George 20-12. The Royals took a 6-0 lead on a fifty-five yard run of a recovered fumble. Lane came back to score on a twenty-five yard run by Smith. Coleman's extra point made it 7-6. Behind again after another Royal score, the Black Knights rallied to take a 14-12 half-time lead on a touchdown by Strickler and an extra point by Coleman. The score remained at 14-12 until Arnette scored in the final minute to bring the final score to 20-12.

"Those darn contact lenses; I lose 'em every time!"

The Lane High Basketball team looked with high hopes at the 1962-63 season. Without much height but with plenty of spirit, they hoped to place in the Central District Tournament. The team had two top scorers in Bill Dunn with an average of seventeen points per game and Billy McCann with an average of fifteen and a half points per game.

After a first game win over Orange in which McCann netted twenty-seven points, the Knights lost the next eight out of nine games. Despite the bad streak, the team rallied to win their next six games.

In an eighteen game season Lane had a fairly respectable 8-10 record but, facing stronger foes, failed to live up to expectations. Dunn and McCann, who supplied most of the scoring, teamed up with Jim Copeland to handle much of the rebounding. Rounding out the starting five were Gene Arnette and Bill Newsome. In reserve were Jack Martin, Ralph Feil, and George Foussekis.

STEVE HUGHES

The Varsity 1962 Cindermen posted a final seasonal record of four wins and four losses. In mid-May, the team took part in the Buena Vista Relays and the Central District Championships, taking a third place in each. The track team was composed largely of young members but was able to hold up against the stiffest competition. Junior Steve Hughes shattered the school discus record with a toss of 161 feet 11 $\frac{1}{2}$ inches. With the loss of only two members through graduation and with the return of sixteen lettermen, the 1963 team can look forward to a successful season.

Lane High Golf Team braves rugged 2-8 season.

The 1962 Lane High Golf team posted a 2-8 season, with wins over Staunton Military Academy and Harrisonburg High School. Home matches were held at the Country Club of Keswick.

Charles L. Guthrie acted as coach and instructor, while Roy Clements, the senior member of the squad, served as captain.

Chip Butler scored an eight over par, seventy-eight at Ingleside Golf Club during a match with S.M.A. which proved to be the team's best round of the season. Leo Napoleon held down the number one position and Richard Ashby accumulated the most game points.

Three team members, Bill Stavitski, Chip Butler, and Leo Napoleon, earned varsity letters by shooting fifty percent of their matches under ninety. They will return next season, and hopes are high for a winning year.

The 1962 Varsity Baseball team was very successful, winning ten of its twelve games. This was an excellent record resulting from the superior efforts on the part of the pitching staff, the extraordinary fielding record of the team and, above all, the ability of the devoted coach, Mr. Joseph Bingler. At one time during the season the team was ranked as one of the top ten high school baseball teams in the country by a national magazine. The 1962 Varsity Baseball Team will be remembered as one of Lane High School's best teams.

The 1962 diamond men will lose some fine talent through graduation; but, with nine lettermen returning, the team is looking forward to a good season for 1963.
